WANTS TO HEAR MR. DEBOW .- The Memphisus appear to be in a bad way to hear our distinguished citizen, Professo DeBow, lecture on railroad matters. The Builtin of Monday somewhat petulently asks: "Why does not Mr. Dellow, who makes speeches and is doing so much to promote the railway interests of Tennessee visit Memphis? Why may not the Cham ber of Commerce invite the distinguished statesman to address our people?" If Mr. DeBow could make it at all convenient, he ought to try and gratify the curiosity these impatient people of Memphis.

THE ADELPHI .- Crowded houses is the order of the day, or night rather, at this establishment. The audience last night was large and fishionable, and "The Hunchback" was performed in a manner to be greeted with well-merited applause Miss Dora Shaw dresses and acts correctly without being able to suggest the idea of reatness or transcendant talent. Mr. Dond was quite effective in his role, but especially do we feel disposed to compliment Miss Augusta Dargon for the thorough naturalness and naivete which she displayed in the character of Helen. We have hardly ver seen anything more effectually ren dered than one or two acts where Mis-Dargon wasmade to figure somewhat prominently. The afterpiece went off well, with Pratt to fornish the comicalities. The performance to-night embraces. "Ingonar and a rosring farce.

RAID ON A NEURO GAMBIERO DES. - A raid on a gambling den on Line street, between College and Cherry, kept by Sam Martin and another negro, was made vesterday morning by officers Reddick, Starkey, Stordevant, Spain, McTigue, Tignor and Arnold, and they succeeded in surprising the camp and capturing thirty-foot prisoners. Active efforts were made to escape when the alarm was given, but all the avenues were closed and none of the inmates of the house go of Cocksfighting, (a favorite sport of Cuffee, dice, cards, and all sorts of gaming are practiced in this den by negroes, and it ought to be broken up. NASHVILLE LYCEUM ASSOCIATION .- In the House of Representatives [Tuesday, Mr. Kerchival introduced a bill to incorporate the Nashville Lyceum Association. | ble in my throat (for which the 'Troches' The names of the corporators given in the are a specific) having made me often a bill are T. A. Kerchival, A. F. Walker, Henry Foote, Andrew Newland, H. H. Thomas and R. S. Tuthill. The object of the association is stated to be the "prutus improvement of its members, the cultiva tion of arts and sciences, and the diffusion of intelligence and morality." We can not undertake to say what will be accomplished by this particular organization, but we are well satisfied that a place the size of Nashville, having so many intelligent and enterprising young men, and also embracing such a large number that need to be made intelligent, should be able to boast of some | is now afforded of acquiring these two languages such institution as a Mercantile Library or as spoken languages, such as has seldom been Lyceum Association. Other cities and towns, some even not as bulky in size or population as Nashville, take peculiar pride in pointing to their well-stocked public libraries, and the swarms of young men and women who patronize them, and enjoy the benefits to be derived by their existence. Go to St. Louis, and any of the Urinary and Seminal Organs, and the whole the substantial citizens of the place train of disorders brought on by baneful and with whom you get acquainted, and who desires to point out the attractions by this noble remedy. lmost every subject of interest. Is it any wonder that St. Louis is making the vast much down freight as it can manage. May strides she is towards greatness and comsercial prosperity? And is it to be wonlered at, after all, if Nashville is to be set down as decidedly old-fogyish and far beand the age in matters which make other ities attractive and prosperous? Let us have a public library, a lyceum as ociation, or some other institution where our young men and young women, too, can neet for instruction; and derive all reasonshie advantages toward the development of the higher and finer faculties of their nafare. Let us have lecturers from all quarters, and light upon all sorts of subjects. Again we say let us have a public library.

MURDER IN WILSON COUNTY-A MAN'S HEAD NEARLY CUT OFF. We heard yesterday of a bloody tragedy which took place a day or two ago near Cainsville Wilson county. It seems that a difficulty occurred between Riley Lenning and another man by the name of Koontz, which resulted in a fight with pistole and knives. Lenning received a pistol shot in the head, and his antagonist having him thus in his power, tore a Enife from his (Lenning's) hand, nd backed and hewed him dreadfully early severing his head from the body. Both of the men were desperate charac ers, and barely of age. During the war coning was a party to the murder of a soy in Wilson county who was enticed from a drinking house by him and others, and killed in a spirit of wantonness and brutality. It will be a good thing for the tor .- Pursuant to public announcement, Col. Bilbo delivered an address on the sones of the day, in the hall of the House of Representatives last night. The number in attendance was small, the half being about ne fifth full, while an occasional darkey, female here and a male there, might have seen seen perched in the galleries, remind ng one of the dismal surroundings of a rookery, when the main body of crowwere off on a foraging expedition, leaving a very slight sprinkling in the shape of an invalid corps, setting in solemn and penive attitude in the uppermost branches apparently reflecting on their latter end. shortly before 8 o'clock, Mr. Doughty, number of the House, called the meeting o order, and after a few remarks in which ie indulged in some congratulations in the late Radical victories in the Legislature. and the new accession to the Radical ranks he introduced the orator of the evening-

Mr. Bilbo, on taking the stand, adverted the fact that in 1859, on the same plat orm on which he now stood, he predicted civil war which would soon follow, and which in its magnitude and dire result would throw in the shade every event o the kind which preceded it. He would leave it to those present if the carnage and strife of the last few years did not justify his prediction. The speaker then went on in a strain of generalities, referring to the greatness of our country before the war, and what it might be to-day if our people had listened to the teachings of the immortal Henry Clay. He next took up the subject of slavery, and for half an hour or so attacked and bombarded with merciless vigor that defunct institution.

We might here remark, par parenthesis that at this late day we could hardly see the pertinency of discussing in elaborate style the immoralities and abuses associated with an institution years ago swept out of existence in the United States. Howcircuit, from the Chancery Court at Nash-ville. This docket will very probably take their hands, and doubtless felt delighted a seeing and hearing slavery demolished once more. The speaker at last touched on the "questions of the day," and his remarks here, it must be confessed, were somewhat mixed. Rebels and traitors, he thought, shouldn't talk about power and that sort of thing, after having endeavored o overthrow the best government the world ever saw. It came, then, with a bad grace from those who had been identified with the rebellion, to stand upon their dignity, and refuse such a magnanimous offer as the constiutional amendment. For himself, his skirts were not clear, but his surroundings were such at the beginning of the war that he was almost compelled to take the course h did. But after all, he continued, it would not do to leave man practically slaves, even though their sin was great. Universal suffrage, for black and white, was the grand remedy, and the work of reconstruction would not be complete until that was brought about. Mr. Bilbo was listened to with marked attention, and his remarks were frequently applanded. FERNELIUS calls disease an affection of he body, contrary to antore; a portubaion of its habit; a derangement of its ourses. What disease is, sometimes clude tuman intelligence, but some diseases are known-their origin, action, and even their antidotes. Whoever has discovered an ectual remedy for one disease, has done smething for his race. Dr. Ayer has done more, for his medicines afford us the ento- to control and cure several danger na disorders. We rarely speak on medial subjects preferring to leave them to physicians, who understand them better. But such effects as are seen in our midst on affections of the lungs, by Ager's Cherry Pectoral; on scrofulous complaints, by hiareaparilla; and on the several complaints that they care, by Ayer's Pills, should not

The Cincinnati Commercial of the 19th inst. notes a growing ease in the money market. That paper says: "There seems to be a considerable amount of money in the hands of capitalists idle, although matters work close in business circles because of the lightness of collections. The fact that there is capital on the street seeking commercial paper has tended to keep rates of interest from running to such extreme points as they did, and there is but very little really good business paper now that can not find a lodgment as not to exceed 12 per cent. The money affont referred to is, in great part, such as is awaiting permanent business investment, such as would, if there was a feeling of confidence in the resuits of Congressional action as well in regard to civil as financial matters, find employment in manufacturing and in the development of promising new enterprises. When Congress adjourns that confidence may acquire strength, but not fully unless something positive shall have been accomplished in accordance with a sense of right and with less taint of temporizing policy." The London Times of January 30, comments as follows on the various fluctuations of the rate of discount in Europe during the year 1866: It is curious to contrast the rate of discount at the principal monetary centres of Europe—Amsterdam, Berlin, Brussels, Frankfort, Hamburg, London and Paris—during 180s, At Amsterdam, the year opened with 0 per cent, discount rate. MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 1s.-But a usiness was done to-day, we continue to quot AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 17,-The market was very AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 11.—The market was very duil to-day, and less active than on Saturday, with a decline of 1, cent, yet a good many bales changed hands. We quote, as a basis, midding at 30, and strict middling at 30½ cents. The of fering stock was still light. The sales were 308 bales and the receipts 104 bales. The stock on hand in Augusta and Hamburg to-day amountto 18.251 bales. Macon, Ga., Feb. 18.-There was but little de Macon, tra., Feb. 18.—There was but fittle de-mand for cotton to day—the advices from Liver-pool, received at a late hour on Saturday night, having shown a still further decline in the mar-ket—and though middling uplands continued at Tic., yet buyers did not enter the market as holders were asking 20% cents for the better grades and as a consequence, but few sules took place and as a consequence, but low sites look place at that figure.

Convasus, tia., Feb. 16.—The feeling in our market vesterday was slightly better, but the prices remained about the same—say 25 cents for Middlings. The inquiry was rather better than on the day previous, but the offerings were not so free. The stock on hand amounts to 13,548 hater.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH. New York Money Market.

New York, February 20.—Money unchanged Gold firm, closing at 137%. Early dealings in railroad shares were at lower prices, and market railroad shures were at lower prices, and market very unsettled under violent fluctuations in Pacific Mail. At first open board the general market was rather more steady, followed by a firmer feeling. After boar I Eric rose to 504, and N. Y. C. 1102, which stiffened the whole market. The great feature was Pacific Mail declining, which was attended with increased excitement. Stock opened at 137, fell off to 134, but afterward rallied to 138. Miscellaneous shares all lower, but rather steady. Coal stocks quiet and generally unchanged. At 1 o'clock board Pacific Mail declined still further, selling at 130%, the dividend being but 3 per cent, which is 2 per fividend being but 3 per cent, which is 2 per entlower than any dividend declared by the Company for many years, has had the effect of topreciating stock. At 2d board Pacific sold
